FRANK E. LANGLEY, Publisher.

FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1913.

Old Winter is still a-marching on.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst is a woman after all, as her physical collapse shows.

Many a tale of extravagance was told in Vermont Tuesday by the increasing tax rate.

Obadiah Gardner of Maine, ex-senator and almost-secretary of agriculture, we salute you! There's many a good man before you gone home disappointed!

With states seceding and threatening to secede, Mexico is facing a situation somewhat similar to that which the United States faced half a century ago, only under far different provocation. But where is Mexico's Lincoln?

We don't see really how the department of agriculture will get along without James Wilson, but we suppose it will worry along some way. By the way, it took a change in the political complexion of the administration to get the Honorable James out of the cabinet.

Resolved: That while a fixed salary of $4,000 per annum is not so good as $15,000, it is nevertheless quite attractive considering the amount of work required of the customs collector in Vermont districts. The affirmative side will be debated by a large number of men during the next few weeks. The decision goes to the affirmative, regardless.

Road commissioners, highway builders and all others interested in good roads should bear in mind the schedule of county meetings which have been arranged by State Highway Commissioner Gates for the present and the succeeding months. Vermont has appropriated money liberally toward good roads, and it is the duty of those who are to expend that money to acquire the latest and best information concerning methods so that the state will be able to get the most for its money. They can get much good information at these county conferences. Hence, the attendance should be large.

Writes Bank Commissioner Dolley of Kansas to Representative J. C. Flynn of North Dorset: "It (Vermont's new blue sky law) will save the people of your state from year to year more money than the entire cost of maintenance of your state government." Perhaps Mr. Dolley overestimates the outside investing proclivities of Vermonters and perhaps he underestimates the cost of maintaining the state government, which causes him to make a somewhat extravagant statement; but he is within reason in stating that a blue sky law is calculated to save a great deal of money for Vermonters. In the light of much promise, Vermonters are eagerly waiting for the satisfactory operation of the law which Representative Flynn was so instrumental in getting through the legislature.

Just the same as last year, there are several Vermont towns in the license list which are not expected to issue licenses to sell liquor, in spite of the fact that the majority sentiment of the voters seemed to be in favor of that system. Some of the towns so voting are so small as to make it risky business for anyone to venture on a commercial enterprise of that sort; and then again there is no real demand for saloons in the little and sparsely populated towns. In other words, the majority vote in favor of license was merely a freak. In 1912 there were six towns voting to license the sale of liquor, which did not grant any licenses, out of twenty-one "yes" towns and cities; this year there are twenty-four towns and cities voting "yes," and of that number it may be expected that at least six will fail to carry out the provisions of the law, chiefly because of the fact that no one has the courage to take the risk of paying heavily for a license, to say nothing of other expenses of conducting the business.

Consumption

Anyone interested in the treatment of Consumption should get one of the booklets telling of recoveries by the use of Eckman's Alternative. It is a booklet telling of more serious troubles—Eckman's Alternative is the effective remedy. Read Mr. Kanaly's statement:

"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Consumption by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Croscote and other medicines, all without benefit. "At Christmas time, 1906, I was not expected to live. Callie Dr. R. H. McCarty, he advised the use of Eckman's Alternative, which I took with excellent results, and was entirely cured. I have gained in weight. I go not in all weathers and have had no cough or cold what-soever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alternative. (Signed) A. DAVIS JAS. W. KANALY. Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in splashing the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and Red Cross Pharmacy Barre, Vt.

about the most miserable kind of a criminal which society has to deal with, not only because of the cowardly nature of his act but because he injures not the person he has a grudge against, but, instead, some others who are in no wise connected with the reason for the growth of the grudge. And the act becomes far worse when it is operated in desecration of the memorials erected to the dead. Therefore, the vandalism on the Gettysburg battlefield earlier in the week, by which eight monuments erected to the soldiers of the Civil war were damaged beyond repair, is one of the most reprehensible deeds that has come to light for a long time. All of the monuments attacked were handsome granite designs, each of which cost thousands of dollars and all of which were practically ruined by having prominent parts chipped off and smashed with heavy hammers. The vandalism comes nearer home to Vermonters because one of the monuments was a memorial erected to a Vermont brigade, the criminality of the vandal being directed toward the defacement of the large granite figure of a lion, the most prominent feature of the design. Pennsylvania, New York, Maine, Wisconsin and Massachusetts were other states whose memorials to the dead were attacked, and those states doubtless will join with Vermont in demanding that the perpetrator of the deed be caught and punished. It is said that there are some rather good clues upon which to work, which is encouraging. Let not the work of ferreting out the mystery stop until the cowardly criminal is placed where he can do no more damage of like nature for a time, or until he learns better.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Oldin Angell is at work for George H. Goodrich.

Eugene H. Call's sawmill is a very busy place since there has been snow enough for sledding. A large number of logs are drawn in every day and the mill is run to its full capacity to get the logs into lumber as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther J. Merrill, whose 60th wedding anniversary was March 1, were married in the house now owned by W. E. Hadfield and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Moses Lewis, the father of the bride. The wall paper in the room in which they were married is still in a good state of preservation.

Miss Mary Blanchard has finished work for Mrs. Bemis and her place is filled by Miss Marion Lasell.

Arthur L. Davenport has rented his place in Mill Village to John Jackson, who lately sold his farm to Henry Davis. Mr. Jackson will move as soon as the necessary repairs can be made to the house.

Mrs. Martha Erskine Wales has returned from the City hospital, Barre, much improved in health.

Mrs. Julius Rogers of Brookfield is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Dow for a few days. Mrs. Rogers will be remembered as Miss Hazel Durkee.

Bert Stevens has moved from Construction hill to the house in Mill Village opposite Arthur Davenport's and Fred Blodgett has moved from the house near Fred Poor's to the one vacated by Bert Stevens.

While a team from Edison's livery was making the return trip from Barre, with a party who had attended "The Shepherd of the Hills," at the opera house in that city, by some mischance the sleigh was overturned in a yard not far from Bert Bruce's, and the occupants spilled without ceremony. For further particulars, inquire of any who were there.

Norman J. Pratt returned March 5 from an absence of several weeks in the West, the greater part of the time being spent in Chicago, but also included a trip as far west as Wyoming. Lewis Gagnon is in town again after an absence of a few days at the home of his parents in Granville.

The selectmen will meet at the office of the town clerk Tuesday, March 11, at 10 o'clock a. m. to settle bills for the past year, arrange for bonds and do any other necessary business.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pruneau arrived yesterday from Plainfield, N. H., where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Pruneau's sister, Mrs. Frank Pilette.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"Doctor Tinkle Tinker" a Feature Song, Saturday Evening.

"Doctor Tinkle Tinker," a song number from "The Girl of My Dreams," is one of the many hits of that splendid musical comedy, which has created an unprecedented success at the Illinois theatre, Chicago, Criterion theatre, New York City, the Garrick theatre, Philadelphia, and the Colonial theatre, Boston. The music of "The Girl of My Dreams" is by Karl Hoschna, who has been compared to Suppe by some of the dramatic critics and who is a finished musician in every way, having had a thorough musical education in Vienna, the home of great musicians, and who served in the Royal orchestra in that city for several years. He is also the composer of "Madame Sherry," and "Doctor De Luxe." The book of "The Girl of My Dreams" is by Wilbur D. Nesbit and Otto Hauerbach.

Unlike other musical shows, every number in this piece is a distinct and separate hit. Especially is this so of "O-o-o" (Maybe It's a Robber) and "Doctor Tinkle Tinker." Already these two big song hits are being sung all over the country and the theatregoers as well as the press are praising in the highest terms "The Girl of My Dreams." John Hyams and Leila McIntyre are the stars in this delightful play.

"The Mummy and the Humming Bird" which will be presented at the Barre opera house Monday evening, ran for a whole season at the Madison Square theatre, New York and scored a hit that is still remembered by those who follow metropolitan successes. On Tuesday night comes the great play of New York life, "House of 1,000 Candles." It will be recalled that this play ran for over two years at the Astor theatre, New York. On Wednesday night "The Man on the Box" bears the unique record of being the only play that was given in the metropolis at two different theatres for an entire season at one and the same time. "The Girl from Sherry's" Thursday night has been received with as much laughter as "The Girl in the Taxi." Everyone knows of the success of "Paid in Full," and how it made both fame and fortune for Paul Gilmore. It is the delight of the offing Friday night and special care has been directed toward making this production the event of the engagement. The week ends with "Three Weeks," Saturday night, which has been offered at no less than four different theatres in New York and always to overflowing audiences. This remarkable series of plays will be staged by the Grayce Stock Co., a worthy organization that has scored a distinct hit by carrying out an original policy of presenting the latest and greatest plays at popular prices. Not alone are the offerings the most attractive of the recent successes, but they are enacted by an ideal gathering of players—players who have really won reputation while in the support of the foremost stars. The stage settings are beautiful and so complete that even a gorgeous red plush curtain is carried. There will be live matinees at which "Thelma," "The Devil," "Camille," will be given. Ladies can secure the best reserved seats Monday night for 15 cents.—Adv.

CONGRATULATED PRES. WILSON.

New Mayor of Rutland Did That As His First Act.

Rutland, March 7.—The first act of Henry C. Brislin as mayor of Rutland was to wire a message of congratulation to President Woodrow Wilson yesterday afternoon.

Mayor Brislin's telegram was worded as follows: "To Woodrow Wilson, President, Washington, D. C.:

"As a Democrat and as mayor of this city, elected on the day of your inauguration, pledged only to see justice done to all, without regard for party, I extend most hearty congratulations and good will.

"Henry C. Brislin."

A Splendid Way to Save

It's lots easier to save money when everyone around you is doing the same thing. Now if you would form a Larkin Club-of-Ten with your neighbors, you could all save money together by getting your household supplies, such as Soaps, Spices, Teas, Notions, Toilet and Pharmaceutical Preparations, etc., direct from Larkin Co. The saving is fully one-half and is returned to you either in the form of extra products of your own selection, or in the form of handsome premium merchandise, of which there are 1,500 to select from. There are also extra benefits for those who organize and conduct such a club, making it very much to your advantage to do so. Just write to Larkin Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and ask them for their large Catalogue B. 21. This describes in detail their products, premium merchandise, Club-of-Ten plan, and the extra benefits which go to the Club-of-Ten secretary.—Adv.
